The Rio Uerc is a stream on the south face of Monte Pisimone. It is a very wild canyon. The best time to visit the canyon is a day after the heavy rain, when other canyons are not accessible because of the high water level (it is only interesting to go through if you can see the big waterfall from the main road in Ressuita. The highest waterfall is 110 meters high. Some abseiling points are difficult to find and reach. It is recommended to take some pieces of cutting rope with you.
