Specialities:

Summary: (machine translated)
Nice and simple ravine of the Pallars. The approach is not complicated and takes little time and the return is equally fast. In spring the stream can be quite loaded by the thaw but in summer there is a trickle so the end of spring is the best time.

Access: (machine translated)
By the N260 to Sort, once there we turn off on the C13 to Llavorsi.
In Llavorsí, just at the entrance, after the bridge we turn right onto the L504 to Alins/Ribera de Cardós/Tavascán following the river Cardós, a wide and magnificent valley. After almost 4kms we will have a traffic circle, we will continue straight on towards Alins/Areu on the L510 (towards Vall Ferrera).
Along this stretch of road we will go into the high peaks looking for the beautiful villages of the Vall Ferrera, Araós, Alins, Areu... In this case just after passing Araós we have the bridge over the Besan (we can park here) or continue a kilometer and a half to the detour to the left to Besan (just at the edge).

Approach: (machine translated)
From the detour we will walk along the path with good tracks towards Besan and when we reach the ridge we will see the church at the bottom of the valley. We will continue to the bridge over the river.

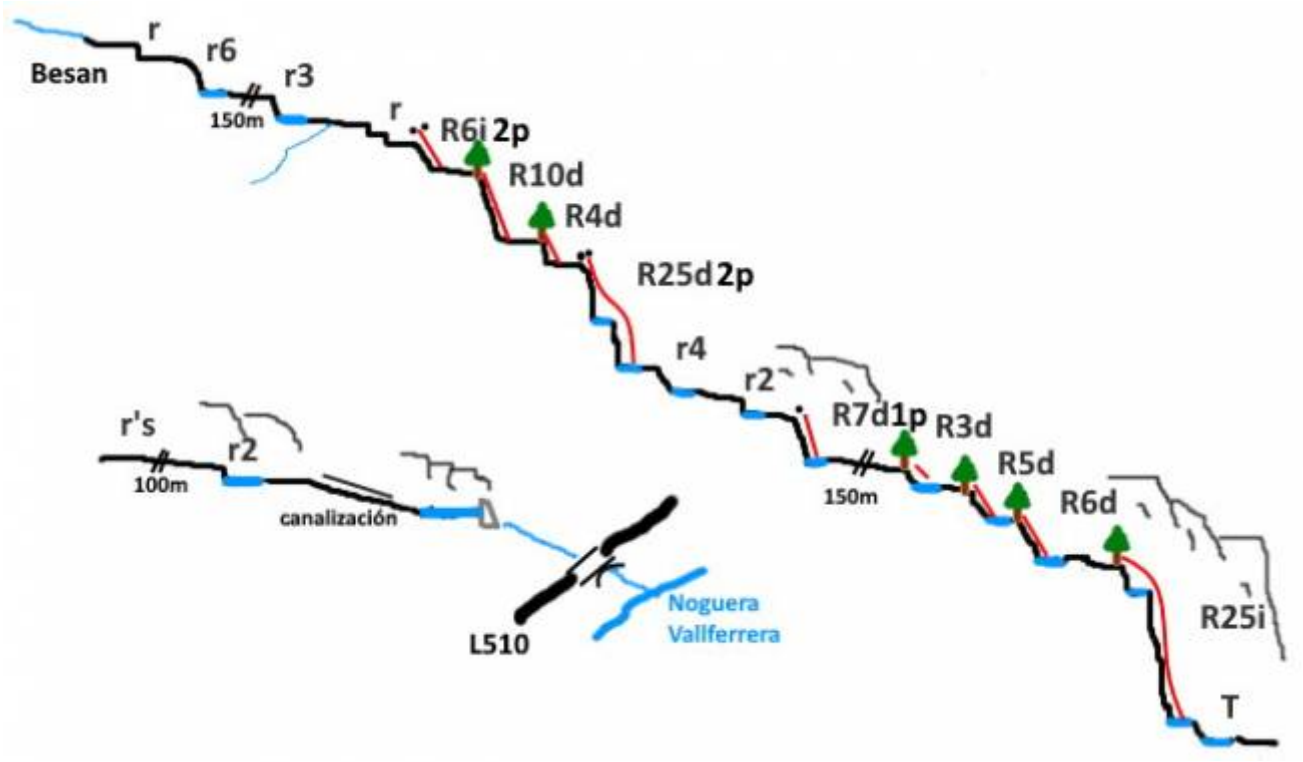

Tour: (machine translated)
A descent with lots of vegetation, not too steep and transparent waters.

Return: (machine translated)
When the ravine opens up, we reach the road.
