Summary: (machine translated)
Dry canyon

Hydrology:

Access:

Approach: (machine translated)
From the parking lot, walk to the exit of the football pitch and climb up through the dry streambed parallel to the Poltrona. From an altitude of around 300-350 m, look for a small mountain pass on the left to reach the canyon. Most of the time you will be following goat paths.

Tour: (machine translated)
At the beginning it is quite flat, the notch becomes clearer and it gets steeper. The search for footholds is interesting because you end up further down in the climbing area.

Return: (machine translated)
Keep left on climbing paths back to the sports grounds
