Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Interesting canyon for its views and its 40m rappel. Perfect to combine with Otonel, Toll de la Zorra, etc.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
We are on the CV580 between Dos Aguas and Millares.
Just at pk53 there is a small road to Otonel, we take it and continue for 5 kms to reach the Castle of Cavas that is on our left at the top, we go around the road and the next stream, with a small bridge is the Zorra.
We will follow the road through a tunnel and find some houses in ruins on the right (return of Partition and Toll de Zorra), the next stream is the stream of Partition. We will pass another tunnel and continue another 400m to a place where the road has an exit track on the right just next to the tributary. We park

Approach: (machine translated)
We backtrack a little along the road until we find the best place to access

Tour: (machine translated)
A few first rappels/drags to access the great vertical of 40m.

Return: (machine translated)
When we reach the bottom we will go out to the right in search of the best place to climb with the wall on the right until we reach an old track. We will take it and go up it to the road next to the ruined houses. We will follow the road to the right
