Summary: (machine translated)
Vertical rappel canyon.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
A path leads along above the C40 and rejoins the road below hairpin bend no. 3.

Access: (machine translated)
From Ventimiglia (Italy), drive up the Roya Valley. 3.4 km after the junction for Fanghetto (Canyon Audin), take the D90 towards Libre. As it is better not to organize a shuttle, leave your vehicle upstream.
Access upstream: follow this narrow road and park 100 meters before hairpin bend no. 5 (the hairpin bends are numbered in color).

NOTE: Anything upstream is worthless and only serves as a garbage dump.

Approach: (machine translated)
Climb up to the needle, there is a small tree to which the rope is attached to get to the canyon.

Tour: (machine translated)
Above the entry, the canyon is not worthwhile.

Vertical descent.
A belay station has been set up halfway up the last large waterfall. This is interesting as you only need to take 25 m ropes with you and the ropes are less exposed to friction halfway up the first abseil section.
The south-west exposure is ideal for starting the descent in the early afternoon in the early and late season.

Return: (machine translated)
From the paved plateau at the foot of the last waterfall, climb up to hairpin bend no. 1 and then follow the road to the car.
