§ Proscription,

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Lime canyon, upper reaches of Inferiore.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated) as for Val de Mus inf. (see there)

Approach: (machine translated) initially as at Val de Mus inferiore (see there); a few meters before the path crosses fen stream - entry to the lower part - , a track goes up on the right (i.e. on the orographic left side of the stream). It is repeatedly only indistinct and becomes increasingly steeper and more exposed. At about 900m you then find a surprisingly clear access via a side gully into the stream.

Tour: (machine translated)
6-8 rappel, the highest before the intermediate exit.

Return: (machine translated)
IdR. one lets follow the lower part of the Val de Mus at the intermediate exit (cf. there), one can of course also go back down the ascent path here.
