Summary: (machine translated)
Unknown canyon of the Foz de Biniés to be done in spring when there is a good flow. By sections

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
From Pamplona on the A21 towards Jaca to Berdún where we turn left onto the A1602 to Ansó. At the height of the Pardina de Cillas at pk 7, we can park or a little further on after the tunnels.

Approach: (machine translated)
We will have to cross the Veral river and go up the slope to take the GR branch. This branch will take us to the Borda de Chandiqué from where we access the ravine.

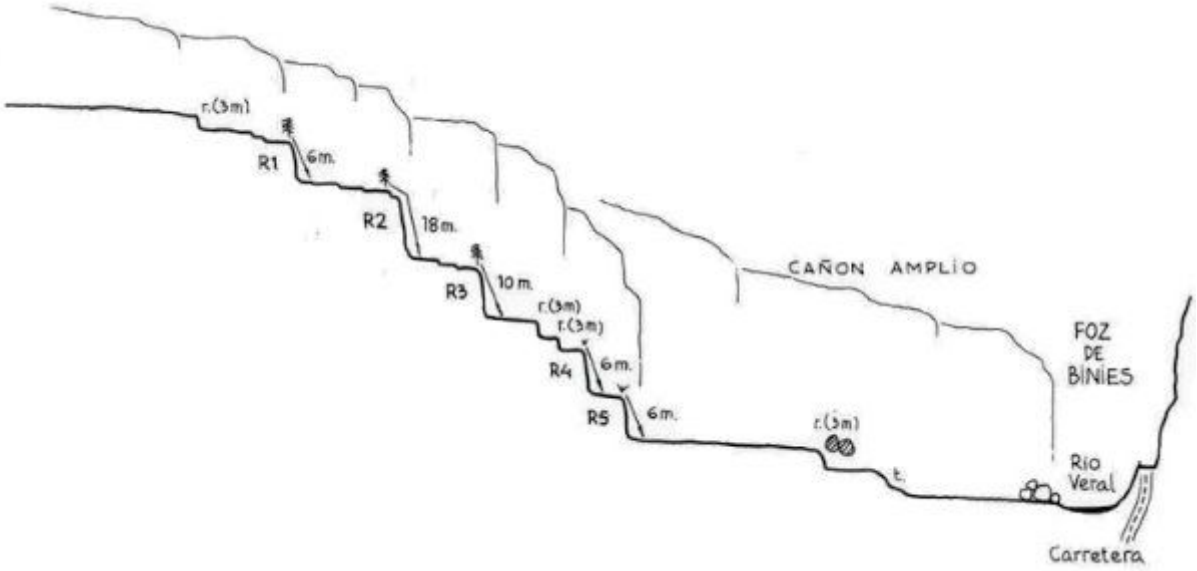

Tour: (machine translated)
A first part without much to go boxing the descent. Areas of abseiling and rappels with others without too much interest will take us to the Veral river.

Return: (machine translated)
We crossed the river and went up to the road to return to the car.
