Summary: (machine translated)
We are in the enclave of the natural park of Fuentes Carrionas, at the foot of the Espigüete, we will have before us an open ravine, with easy access and return by very marked path and magnificent views of the north face of the Espigüente. The waterfall is a must for tourists in summer so we will surely have spectators.
When we finish our adventure we can approach the detour and take a cool beer with a delicious skewer and tortilla or a good hot broth.

Access: (machine translated)
We must be located between Cardaño de Abajo and de Arriba in Fuentes Carrional, at the foot of Espigüete.
We will arrive from Guardo or from Cervera de Pisuerga by the P210 to the Camporredondo reservoir. Once at the reservoir, we go right next to Cardaño de Abajo, at p.k. 33.5, in a sharp bend in the reservoir, we have the detour to Cardaño de Arriba (road to the north), with the eastern ridge of Espigüete on our left and a small cabin in a meadow that on weekends, in summer or when the weather is good, serves as a bar.
We will go up this road for a little more than 2 kms until we reach a parking lot on the left, where we will park.

Approach: (machine translated)
From the parking lot there is a track that runs parallel to the Mazobre stream, we will follow this track overlooking the imposing N face of Espigüete, we will leave the free refuge on the left and continue along the path that leads to the base of the waterfall. Here there are usually tourists watching the waterfall.
When you reach the viewpoint of the waterfall, right at the base, a path goes off to our left (orographic right) that goes up the waterfall and heads towards the head of the stream, when we reach the meadow where the ravine opens, just before the contribution of the stream on the right, that is the place to access.
