Resumen: (traducción alternativa)
Aquatic jump tour, perfect for beginners, family, or just to have fun. Commercially run.

Hidrología:

Acceso: (traducción alternativa)
Parking is possible at Gasthaus Marie, but out of consideration it is better to park upstairs as it doesn't disturb anyone.

Acceso: (traducción alternativa)
From the upper parking lot, head northwest, cross the bridge and follow the path into the river.

Recorrido: (traducción alternativa)
Many jumps (up to 6 - 7 m) and a few slides. Can be done with quite a lot of water, but then requires whitewater skills. Often run by commercially guided groups. By no means a deep canyon, but fun for beginners or children.
If you use the water level indicator "Unterer Walchen", 50 cm is still quite feasible, but not without it.
With perfect knowledge of the canyon and good white water skills, it is possible to climb at 80 - 90 cm. However, this can be quite dangerous if you don't know what you're doing. At higher water levels you should take your white water kayak or raft with you!

Regreso: (traducción alternativa)
After the last jump/slide into the large pool, exit left onto a path that leads back to the road. Alternatively, continue until you reach Gasthaus Marie and get out there.

With Neo, you're almost overdressed. You'll run into lots of swimmers in bikinis and swimsuits ;) It's the perfect way to cool off if you're already in the area. (traducción alternativa)

Beautiful short canyon. Unfortunately, the water was very murky. Great for beginners or children's groups (traducción alternativa)

Average canyon but still scenic. We didn't need a harness or ropes. We walked back through the canyon - so the tour can be done in 2 directions (at least when there is little water). (traducción alternativa)

Super easy tour under normal water conditions. Great for whitewater practice during high water conditions. Lots of jumps, deep pools. Very open "canyon".
