Resumen: (traducción alternativa)
First hiking, then rappel canyon (10 rappel).

Hidrología:

Acceso: (traducción alternativa)
From Ierapetra westward along the sea (rarely seen) to Myrtos (14 km). Passing the village, the road (No. 97) turns inland towards Ano Viannos and goes uphill. After 24 km we reach Ano Viannos and continue through the village on the main road. About 2 km after the end of the village - we have passed Kato Viannos on the left - we turn left towards Hondros, Keratokambos. After 3 km we pass through Hondros, then it is another 9 km down to Keratokambos at the sea. Here we drive along the sea for about 400 m towards Arvi, then turn left at the end of the village and drive north for another hundred meters or so. The road now turns to the east. At the exit of the bend there is a big chapel on the right (here we park the lower vehicle for the Portella). We now continue east for about 300 meters until the tarred road meets a dirt road (2008). Here we can park the car.

Acceso: (traducción alternativa)
We follow the dirt road that makes a bend to the right. On the left, a dirt road branches off immediately. We take the slope and then the right branch and soon cross the Kavousi. Here we leave the lower car, or walk from here if we don't have 4x4.

With a 4x4 or on foot we follow this track that zig-zags up the ridge between Portella and Kavousi for about 1.1km. After 3 serpentines to the right and to the left (from the stream), the track finally goes northwards towards a ridge. Beyond it goes down to the entry.

Recorrido: (traducción alternativa)
Water usually only in the streambed before the canyon itself

Regreso: (traducción alternativa)
Where the access track crosses the stream, exit left and follow the track southwards to the car.

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Kaviousou Observations:Dry canyon.The mud smells a little, but it's bearable.Impressive depth and steepness.Comments on the approach and return:To get there: take the trail opposite the small chapel marked on DC. At the white house, there is a sign for Kaviousou. Follow it and take the trail. You will soon reach the river, which the trail crosses at a bend. Park here.For the approach. Follow this track, turn right at the first house. You will soon come to a fork in the track. The quickest route is to turn right and go up until you reach the fence, which is easy to cross. Go down slightly until you reach level ground and from there descend as best you can towards the river bed.
