Résumé: (traduction alternative)
Little known for being in the shadow of his "big" brothers Paller and Olla de Mel, it is nevertheless an option for those who are not so used to the great verticals. Its second part, in the narrowest and most fattened area of the canyon, is much better than the Paller and will leave us with a good taste in our mouths. Bring material for reinstallation.

Accès: (traduction alternative)
We will be located in Saldes, for them between Berga and Puigcerdà, just before reaching Guardiola de Bergueda, after leaving the tunnel we have the detour to the left by the B400 to Saldes and Vallcebre.
Before reaching Saldes, just before crossing the bridge we have the detour to the right to Gresolet on a track. We get in here and follow the signs to the Sanctuary.
If we have two cars, we leave the return car in the parking lot of the sanctuary.
We continue along the track towards the Coll de Bauma, if we only have one car we will park here.
If we have access car we will turn left onto the track and climb about three kilometers, we leave behind the access to Olla de Mel, and Pallers around the coll de Font Cerdana. We will continue until almost the coll de Bassotes, a little before in a left curve we have the bed of our riverbed.

Approche: (traduction alternative)
Almost immediate

Tour: (traduction alternative)
A first part without much interest to go deeper into the crevice, which is the most interesting part.

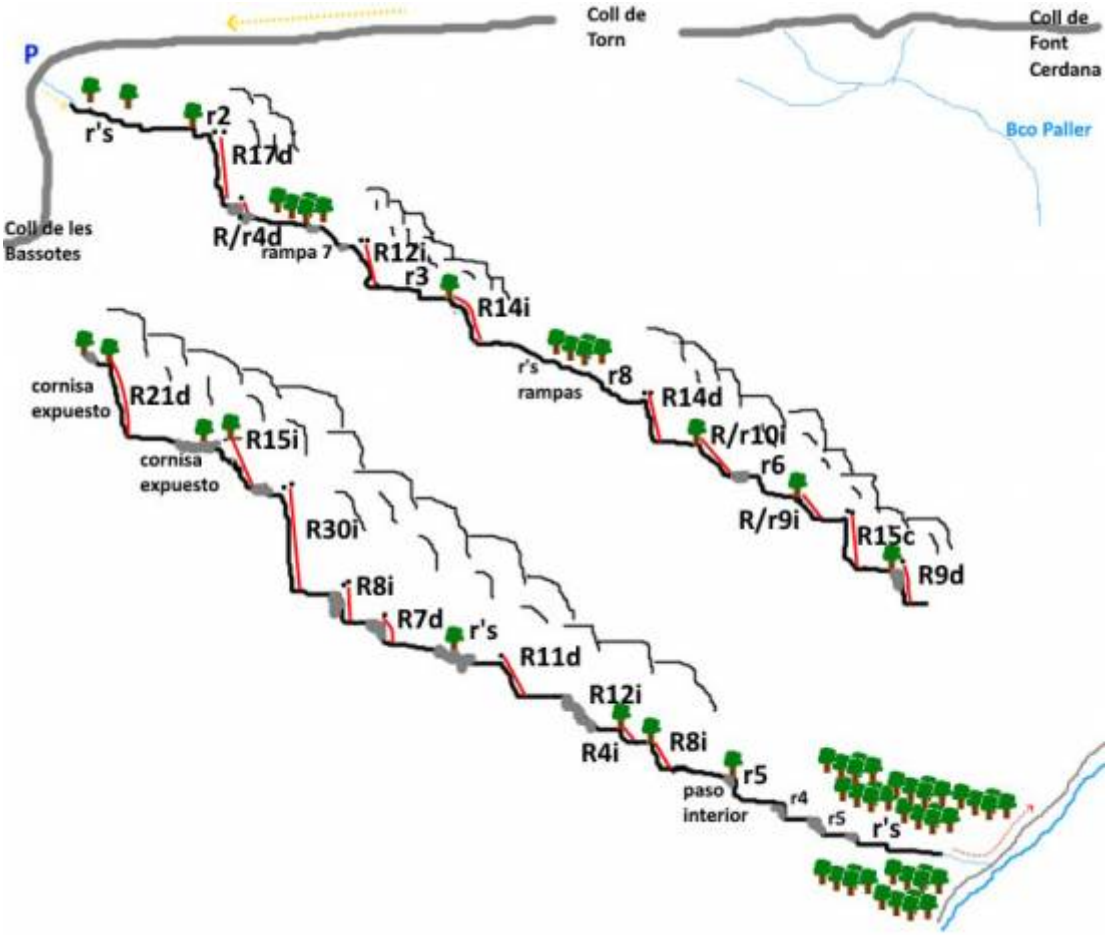

Retour: (traduction alternative)
When it opens we reach the bottom of the valley, we find the path that we will take to the left to the sanctuary.
If we had only one car we will have to climb up to the pass, when we reach the bottom of the valley, at the sanctuary, we will see a path marked with dots that shortens the track to the pass where we parked.
