Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Laghetto Quelques passages mignons mais alterné avec d'autres qui cassent le rythme. Pleins de fleurs partout avec des relais qui sentent le lys, les myrtilles et les fraises des bois. Très bien équipé mais pas toujours logique, faut chercher. Pour le chemin d'accès à la dernière maison du village, couper dans le champs vers la gauche, peu visible avec quelques points bleu. Arrivé à la superbe maison avec point de vue, passer à gauche de la maison et chercher la descente vers le canyon. Toujours avec des points bleu. Added 2 anchor points for a handrail on a slippery ledge just before the 70-meter waterfall section Otherwise, the anchors are fine; it's still a nice, continuous stream with some interesting sections. Thanks to Paolo, Pierluca, and Fabio for the day (traduction alternative)

Came in Valsesia again after our Summer trip... High flow in this canyon, especially in the 70 m waterfall where it's concentrated in a sort of tube... Funny and a bit technical The 2nd section has the flow doubled but the verticals are easier... Would be great the 70 m all bolted in the water flow.

Gorge with some quite technical points, like a really very aerial belay (on overhang) under a boulder; after a while the harness starts to hurt... and a mancorrente right after that is "slippery" The 70 m waterfall is very nice it is a pity it is not rigged all in the stream; I tried the toboggan in the last meters, you have to stay perfectly closed because it is very narrow the tube where the water goes down. The stream is continuous and pleasant all the way down. Weapons ok only some a bit rusty, mostly chains with ring. (traduction alternative)

Not easy to find the entrance, follow the gulliver.it infos (traduction alternative)

Continuous canyon with some nice passages, one above all the large 70 m nearly vertical waterfall (can be tobogganed in the last 10/15 m), there is also a passage into a small cave and a 30 m rappel in a "tropical-like" environment. Somewhat scarce water in summer months. (traduction alternative)
