Résumé: (traduction alternative)
Descent over waterfalls that have carved themselves into the sandstone layers.

Hydrologie: (traduction alternative)
Medium, several alternatives on the left bank.
It is essential to do this when the snow is melting or after several days of rain to ensure good conditions.

Accès: (traduction alternative)
From Gap, take the N85 towards Grenoble and then the D944 to the Col de Manse. 4 km after Pont-du-Fossé, turn left onto the D944a. Drive through Les Eyrauds, Les Martins and Les Gubias and take the road on the right just after crossing the bridge over the Méollion. Follow this road, which is not very good, for 450 m until you reach the parking lot (small meadow).

Approche: (traduction alternative)
Follow the Méollion path and 90 m after leaving the path, take the path that goes up to the left over the Poas. Cross the Champets stream, which consists of two small valleys, and continue uphill, leaving the path on the right to Champets on the left. The descent begins in the next valley, where there is less water.

Tour: (traduction alternative)
Descent over waterfalls that have carved themselves into the sandstone layers.

Mountain route, take equipment with you for all eventualities!

Retour: (traduction alternative)
Turn right and follow the road to the parking lot.
