Résumé: (traduction alternative)
Unattractive forest canyon with a multi-level 85m high final waterfall visible from the road.

Hydrologie:

Accès: (traduction alternative)
Parking exit: From Tolmezzo, take the SS 52bis in the direction of "Passo di Monte Croce Carnico - Paluzza". After passing the village of Paluzza, continue for about two kilometers and park in a small parking bay on the left. The final waterfall is visible from here.
Parking entry: Continue towards Paluzza and turn left towards Noiaris immediately after the first right-hand bend. Once you reach the village square, turn left into Via Ramajor and follow it until you see a sign prohibiting passage. Park your car near a house.

Approche: (traduction alternative)
Climb briefly up the forest road, then follow the red and white markings of hiking trail CAI no. 159 to the left. Follow the hiking trail (initially a new forest road) up to altitude 1030, then ascend on an indistinct path to the ruins of Stavolo Ronchiai. Here either descend into the forest canyon (2? rappels, lots of downclimbing) or follow the canyon rim down to a level before the terrain finally becomes steep and rocky (N 48°4860276, E 12° 98902). Here rappel 2x from trees (30m & 25m), you will end up above the last 8m waterfall in Rio Ronchiai

Tour: (traduction alternative)
Belays are Multimonti bolts with chain links unless otherwise specified.
3m downclimb
C 8m right
Confluence with the Rio Pissanda
Several small downclimbs
C 6m from tree on the right
C 20m left (difficult to pull off)
downclimb
C 30m from tree on the left (rappel over the pool)
downclimb until you are in front of a high waterfall
C 35m from new long rope sling with chain link around trees on the left
C 50m from a new ring bolt and 2 multimonti bolts

Retour: (traduction alternative)
After the last waterfall, continue across the riverbed and then through the forest on the left bank until you reach an overgrown forest road, descend along the forest road to the riverbed of the But. Here you should look for the best place to ford the river. As soon as you reach the opposite bank, you reach the main road and your car.

A once-in-a-lifetime ditch. The highest rappel is 50m high. Stupid access because relatively far up and then down again through the forest without a route. (traduction alternative)
