Descended today the short, playful inforramento from the bridge at 604mslm. From the bridge you can climb 50m on path on left bank to have flatter access. At the last puddle dive for long right. Immediately after this puddle go up left or right to return in two minutes to the car to think about the next gorge, as this takes exactly 24 minutes. This fun tributary plunges into the Tassere definitely ahead and a local guidebook calls it val de Gorla, although in the Tabacco it is written like Di Lache/Di Laghe. (traduction alternative)
