Résumé: (traduction alternative)
It is a simple and aesthetic descent, although somewhat long and with sections of little interest, where we will find many remains of the old mining activity in the area. The strong point of the descent is the long R60 with which we finish the ravine.
There are those who park in the Rodonella, go up the GR and then descend over the last 3 rappels.

Hydrologie:

Accès: (traduction alternative)
By the C16 from Berga to Puigcerda. We will pass Cercs and in Rodonella we can leave the car to return.
Access Bcos Sant Corneli
We will continue and before p.k. 108 we have the detour to the left to St Josep and St Cornelli by the BV4025, for 5kms on this road to turn left to Fígols. We will pass these houses and continue until a very sharp left curve that has a track in front and a signpost with the PRs of the area (1.5 kms from the BV4025). We will get on the track towards the Torrent de la Fumanya for 700m to reach a right curve and another track in worse condition in front, we will get to park next to the remains of buildings.

Approche: (traduction alternative)
We will follow the track until it crosses the riverbed, almost 1km.

Tour: (traduction alternative)
As soon as we enter 2 rappels, then a walking area with some climbing to reach another 2 very short rappels, almost climbable. We will continue through another walking area until we reach a small chaos and after it the canyon closes a little and we reach the great vertical. A small rappel, followed by another that we will extend to the head of the R60 to go safely.

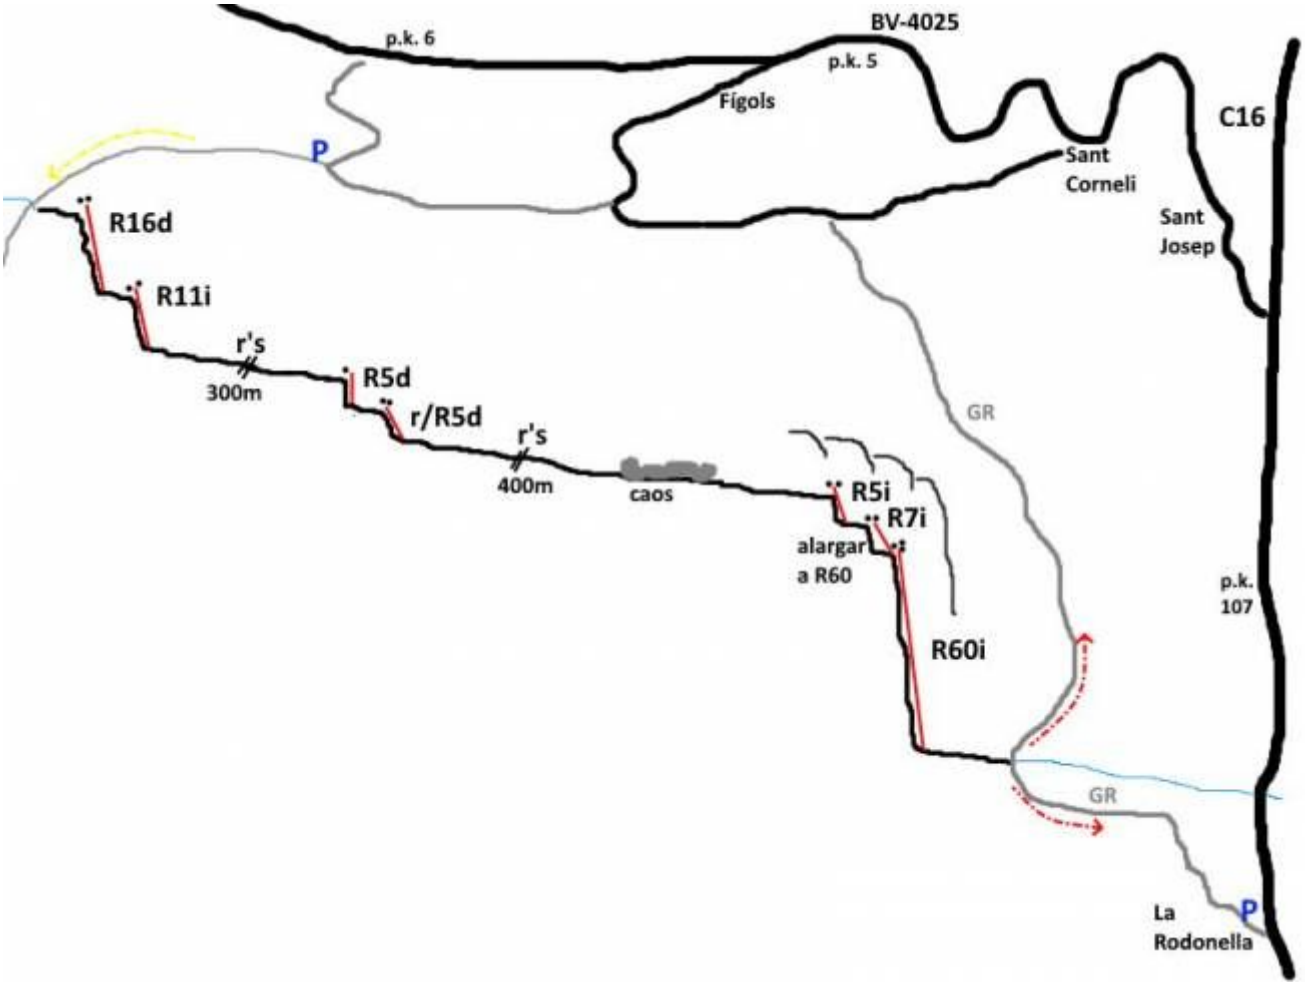

Retour: (traduction alternative)
After the R60, soon the GR crosses with us.
* If we have gone with only one car, we will go up the GR (left) towards Fígols, when we reach the road we will take it to the left to look for the curve where we turn off towards the PR of Fumanya.
* If we have gone with two cars, we will follow the GR (right) to Rodonella.
