Résumé: Canyon section between the dam and climbing sector that despite the beautiful water colours of the dam, does not deliver the same goods. A few abseils, but most of all walking with vegetation or the occasional landslide precede the more narrow part. A water canal and before you know it, you have arrived back at the climbing crag.
Hydrologie: Large water capture above.
Accès: Park the lower car at climbing sector Val Gallina. Drive up to the dam with bike or car. Alternatively walk the concrete access road.
Approche: Access the valley floor best way possible, mind the large water pipe, where the dam could potentially do an (automated) flushing.

2023-09-15   Jeroen Kirchner   ★ ↗   📖 ★★   ⚓ ★   🌊 Faible   🍷 Terminé Water colour is greyish, somewhat muddy from the dam. Large landslide avoided on the right, abseiled from a tree back into the canyon. Hooks in place, looks like climbers. Added a few more to complete the decent.
