Sintesi: (traduzione alternativa) Nice half-day tour; short rappels in the water; upper part open, lower part cut; short access; return via Fella River (attention water level!); in the afternoon you have more sun in the canyon;
Idrologia:
Accesso: (traduzione alternativa) From Carnia drive towards Tarvisio --> at the exit of Chiusaforte turn right towards "Sella Nevea"/Raccolana --> after the bridge turn left towards the church --> behind the church you can park your car next to the road. If you don't want to park in the middle of the village (changing clothes, hanging up things,...) you can stay at the "Brussine parking lot" (see coordinates). There you have much more space and you don't disturb anyone (+2min longer walking distance)
Avvicinamento: (traduzione alternativa) Behind the church, hiking trail 620 with the sign "Patoc" branches off to the left of the road --> follow this path, initially slightly uphill and then slightly downhill from a small wayside shrine to the stream --> the last few meters you walk parallel to the canyon to a stone bridge at approx. 550Hm --> the entry for the lower part of the canyon is directly to the right after the stone bridge.
Giro: (traduzione alternativa) The Rio Patoc is a short, interesting canyon, which can be very tricky at higher water levels as most of the short rappels are directly in the watercourse --> in the upper part of the "Patoc inferiore" some places can be bypassed or downclimbed --> the lower part of the canyon is more incised and technically more demanding --> here is also the highest rappel point of approx. 15m --> between the rappels there are only a few walking passages --> after a small chute and waterfall the tour suddenly ends --> after approx. 100m you pass under the railway/motorway bridge and in front of the Fella river (approx. 400m). meters you stand under the railroad / freeway bridge and in front of the Fella River (approx. 400m). If you want to walk the whole canyon, follow hiking trail 620 to the village of Patoc (access also possible by car) --> however, the upper part is usually omitted due to lack of interest (only walking and climbing passages).

Ritorno: (traduzione alternativa)

There are 2 options for the way back:

Option 1:

You swim down the Fella for about 15 min --> before the road bridge of Raccolana there is an iron ladder on the left side, which makes it easier to get out --> shortly you get back to the car at the road.

Option 2: At the confluence of the Patoc and the Fella, walk upstream along the Fella for about 200m. You come to a point with fixed ropes along which you come to the cycle path up the slope. Then take the cycle path to Chiusaforte and cross the bridge to the parking lot. approx. 20min

Stands in top condition and easy to reach (sometimes a rope traverse helps). The first slide (2m) directly after the entry into the lower part can definitely be done. The longer second slide is to be enjoyed with caution, as the pool is not deep and there is an extension of the rock directly below the white water. Access is very easy. (traduzione alternativa)

Went into the canyon today when the water level was very high. Even if the abseils are in the water, they develop at high water in such a way that you can avoid the main water jet. Stands are all ok (traduzione alternativa)

Stalls all ok, cozy at the top and beautiful at the bottom! (traduzione alternativa)

Great little tour for arrival or departure day, or in combination with other canyons in the area. 2 very beautiful rappels, the rest is a little less impressive but still nice! Nice and clean water, and everything is very easy to find. Also took the bikelane back, as swimming the Fella would currently get you a bruised butt.

Fella too little water. Fixed ropes for return via cycle path top. Easy to find. (traduzione alternativa)

Part of our family canyoning vacation. Everything was in perfect order. The parking lot at the parking bay next to the road is more suitable for the ascent including the upper part and implementation with a second car. Parking below the church is no problem and is my recommendation. (traduzione alternativa)

The canyon was announced as taking 2 hours, but was completed in 3, as there were 7 of us and virtually none of the 7 difficulties could be avoided. Nice narrow section and crystal-clear water. (traduzione alternativa)

I would calculate 30 minutes to get there, as well as for the way back. (We crossed the Fella and walked back along the old road. Nice tour to Belepeit. (traduzione alternativa)

Very nice half-day canyon. All glued anchors in top condition. Return via the river. Now and then you couldn't drift back because it was too shallow. (traduzione alternativa)

Everything good, walking up 30 min, we did the swim back, not the nicest in our opinion.

Nice short canyon Car Car alone in 1:15h Fella swim back is more of a constant change between drifting along, going shallow water, and docking big rocks (traduzione alternativa)
