Sintesi: (traduzione alternativa)
Sunny, open dolomite gorge with crystal-clear water and a few beautiful spots, but also plenty of hiking/downclimbing to do

Idrologia:

Accesso: (traduzione alternativa)
Parking exit at the trailhead: Follow the SS13 through the Canal Valley to Dogna, then turn off here into the Dogna Valley. Follow the road until just before the two bridges over the Rio Mas. Parking is available on both the left and right sides before the rock face. You can also park right in front of the bridge, but there is a risk of falling rocks here.
Parking entry: Continue up the road through the valley. After several haipin bends, you'll reach the small village of Chiout Zucuin. Park on the right at a picnic table at the entrance to the village.

Avvicinamento: (traduzione alternativa)
From the parking lot, follow the road briefly downhill and then immediately turn right onto a new, narrow forest road. Follow this forest road, first ascending briefly, then crossing or descending into the wide valley of the Rio Mas.

Giro: (traduzione alternativa)
Short hike, downclimb and slide until you reach the first and highest abseil point.
C 30m rappel from ring hook on the left over the pool
Longer route with small pools, side stream from the right
C 10m from the ring bolt on the right hiking and downclimbing, with a few pools for sliding 2m jump
Hike and downclimb until you can get out on the right before the bridge.

The last waterfall under the old military road (approx. 20m) has not yet been set up.

Ritorno: (traduzione alternativa)
Exit the streambed on the right

Another short canyon hike with my son, who’s 10 years old. We even brought along our Jack Russell, who’s used to the mountains. He rides in the backpack during the rappels. We wore 3mm neoprene today—more than enough for summer. (traduzione alternativa)

A beautiful but mostly touristy canyon. Only two rappels and long sections of hiking and climbing. But it’s worth a visit. The path to the starting point is marked with a “No Entry” sign, but it’s safe to walk through. (traduzione alternativa)
