Sintesi: (traduzione alternativa) Wild but attractive and varied gorge in the upper reaches of the Rio Alba. Despite the remote location, relatively easy access and return via hunters paths.
Idrologia:
Accesso: (traduzione alternativa) From Moggio Udinese up into the Aupa valley. Turn right to Pardis and follow the road further up the mountain. Turn right at a junction. Parking lot in front of a barrier at about 1050m.
Avvicinamento: (traduzione alternativa) Follow hiking trail 450 to the NE. This part of the climb was still officially closed in 2026, but can and is still used. The official route remains on the road for 60 meters and then leads down to the old path. Soon afterwards, at a crossroads, turn NE into the mostly dry streambed of the Rio Alba. Cross the stream and follow the path into the Rio Fondaris valley without gaining or losing much altitude. At a cairn or a little further on, branch off from the hiking trail on a hunters path marked with blue dots and cairns that leads into the valley of the Rio Fondaris. Follow this path and descend into the streambed just before the gorge begins (a path branches off to the left 50m before)

Giro: (traduzione alternativa)

The gorge cuts in quickly.

10m from anchor on the right (tree obstacle)

2.5m slide or rappel from jammed tree

12m from anchor on the right

Short downclimb

3m jump

30m from 2 anchors on the right

2m jump or rappel from anchor right

3m rappel from anchor left (possibly jumpable but tree in underwater)

10m rappel from anchor left, jumpable

Short downclimb, cross a wild hunters path secured with wire rope ladders

3m rappel from anchor right

Ritorno: (traduzione alternativa)

Climb briefly through the chaos of boulders from the Rio Alba, then turn orographic right into the deciduous forest. In total you have to climb about 40-50m to reach a crossing path marked with blue dots and cairns. Follow this path to the SE. The beautiful path crosses a landslide zone (ignore the old belays and bypass above instead) and then crosses through steep forest interspersed with rocks in about 15 minutes to a crossroads. Here take the path marked with pink dots to the right. You soon reach an abandoned hut (Case Foramiz), here only a short ascent on the forest road to the lower parking lot.

You could also try descending along the streambed of the Rio Alba, but this part has not (yet) been climbed and would be an adventure in its own right.

A true gem! A bit slippery, but a beautiful area. Anchor points are fine. No cell phone reception. An offline map for navigation is very helpful. The last rappel is direct in the waterline - there's no way around it. A must-do in Friuli.

First ascent. Unexpectedly beautiful canyon with some rappels - highest 30m and jumps, with few walking passages in a wild ambience. Unfortunately, the way back is first uphill without a path, so only 4 stars. (traduzione alternativa)
