Attrezzatura:
Corde: 1x 10m

Sintesi: (traduzione alternativa)
A short canyon well-suited for beginners.

Idrologia: (traduzione alternativa)
No alternative routes around the cut-off section.
Often in the water. Best time: spring and fall.

Accesso: (traduzione alternativa)
From Aix-en-Provence, take the D10 toward Vauvenargues. Drive past St-Marc-de-Jaumegarde, past the turnoff for the Bimont Dam and Les Bonfillons (with its traffic light), to reach the Venturiers parking lot on the right side of the D10, one and a half kilometers before Vauvenargues.

Avvicinamento: (traduzione alternativa)
From the parking lot, head down the GR trail and turn left at the bottom. The trail leads to the La Cause stream and then to a path. Turn right toward Le Prieuré and Puyloubier (GR9), cross the La Cause bridge, and follow the trail until it splits into two directions. Now take the left path, which is marked with a signpost (SV102) and a "No Motorized Vehicles" sign pointing toward Vauvenargues (Vallon du Délubre loop trail). Hike to the small mountain pass at an elevation of 427 m according to the IGN (the canyon is visible from the path). Just before the pass, a sort of valley floor has formed to the right below. Follow this and first descend toward the exit of the canyon. Then, 20 m past the trunk of a large fallen pine tree (cairn), turn left and head toward the rocky ridge at the most open part of the slope (follow the few cairns). A poorly marked trail leads you to a small crevice that you must climb down to reach the start of the canyon.

Giro: (traduzione alternativa)
The canyon is very short. You pass through the hollow beneath the large dead pine tree, cross a few small gours, and then reach a canyon with a C3 (jump possible + swim), C4 (jump of 4 or 6 m over an MC on the right side possible + swimming), descent from the C3 or rappelling at a point on the right side if it's slippery, and a C5 (jump possible + swimming). Exit on the right bank where the canyon ends.

Suitable for children and adults with no experience who want to try canyoning for the first time.
Warning! The rock is quite slippery at the 6-meter jump over the second waterfall, and the jump-off point is difficult to reach. Use the handrail provided to climb up.
Access to the mountain range is strictly regulated during the summer months. Please observe the applicable regulations!

Ritorno: (traduzione alternativa)
On the right bank, follow the path uphill to the trail and take the same route back to the parking lot.
You can repeat the descent several times a day, since the walk takes only 10 minutes.
